

PRESS RELEASE

Paris, September 9th 2019

Teamly Digital announces the first deployment of its Stream-H platform by KLEOS, his strategic partner on the Tunisian hospitality market.

Stream-H is a high-speed access platform dedicated to the "hospitality" market that takes advantage of the existing coaxial network in buildings to distribute instantly and without any work a bandwidth greater than the optical fiber to each coaxial socket in each room.

Stream-H delivers over 2.5Gb/s to each "CNU" client terminal connected to the existing coaxial network without modifying or disrupting any existing analogue or digital television signals.

KLEOS chose Teamly Digital platform for its unique performance in the world and for the easiness of installation which guarantees to its customers the continuity of the services and availability of the hotel rooms.

“We are very excited to deploy this new platform STREAM-H in hotels here in Tunisia. It has seamlessly integrated with our service solution such as high-speed Internet access, WiFi access point management and billing. STREAM-H is the ideal tool that allows hotels to provide new connected services to their customers without any room work or refurbishment.” said Riadh Ben OMRANE, KLEOS CEO and founder.

Michel KUNTZ, president of Teamly Digital, added : “After 2 years of development we are proud of the close collaboration with KLEOS for the launch of our platform STREAM-H. With KLEOS we will provide the Tunisian market with the fastest and best hospitality service platform”.

Communiqué de Presse

Paris, le 9 septembre 2019

Teamly Digital annonce le premier déploiement de sa plateforme Stream-H par son partenaire stratégique KLEOS sur le marché Tunisien de l'hospitalité

Stream-H est une plate-forme d'accès haut débit dédiée au secteur de l'« hospitalité » qui profite du réseau coaxial existant dans les bâtiments pour distribuer instantanément et sans aucun travaux une bande passante supérieure à celle de la fibre optique vers chaque prise coaxiale de chaque pièce du bâtiment.

Stream-H délivre plus de 2.5Gb/s vers chaque « CNU » terminal client connecté au réseau coaxial existant sans modifier ni perturber les éventuels signaux de télévision analogiques ou numériques déjà transportés sur ces câbles.

KLEOS a choisi la plate-forme de Teamly Digital pour ses performances uniques au monde et pour la simplicité de son installation qui garantit à ses clients la continuité des services et de la disponibilité des chambres.

“Nous sommes très heureux de déployer cette nouvelle plate-forme STREAM-H dans les hôtels ici en Tunisie. Elle s'est parfaitement intégrée à notre solution de services comme l'accès Internet très haut débit, la gestion des points d'accès WiFi ou la facturation. STREAM-H est l'outil idéal qui permet aux hôteliers de fournir de nouveaux services connectés à leurs clients sans immobiliser aucune chambre.” dit Riadh Ben OMRANE, PDG et fondateur de KLEOS.

Michel KUNTZ, président de Teamly Digital, dit : « après 2 années de développement nous sommes fiers de cette étroite collaboration avec KLEOS pour le lancement de notre plateforme STREAM-H. Avec KLEOS nous allons fournir au marché tunisien de l'hospitalité la plus rapide et la meilleure plateforme de services. »
